

I support net neutrality. Regulations must prevent providers or anyone from censoring, limiting, or in any way favoring some internet content. Accessibility to internet will be provided through other means than corporate censorship.